Brave British Submarine Commander Adds V. C. To D. S. O. and Bar

Commander Anthony Cecil Miers, D.S.O. and Bar R.N., who has been awarded the Victoria Cross for valor. In command of H.M. Submarine "Torboy" he carried out a daring and successful raid on shipping in a defended enemy harbour, planned with full knowledge of the great hazards to be expected during 17 hours in waters closely patrolled by the enemy. When he had fired his torpedoes in full daylight in a glassy calm he was heavily counter-attacked and had to withdraw through a long channel with anti-submarine craft all round and continuous air patrols overhead.

R. A. F. Defeat Pass All-Stars In Soccer Game

Locals Led 2-1 at Half Time; Put Up Good Fight Against More Experienced Rivals

Medicine Hat's R.A.F. soccer team visited here over the week-end and on Monday opposed a team made-up of players from Coleman and Hillcrest. Owing to it being a grand day and a big sports program being held at Fernie, very few witnessed the game.

Medicine Hat did not field the same strong team that they sent here on a previous occasion and as a result the locals held their opponents fairly well in check.

Hall, after ten minutes sent the R.A.F. ahead, when he scored from only a few feet out, Coleman played strongly for the equalizer and fifteen minutes later Pecini finished off a well executed attack by banging the leather past Roberts. Bill Knight put the locals ahead with only a few minutes to go when he raced the ball from centre field to beat Roberts handsly.

Both teams played on equal terms for a considerable portion of the second half. The big break of the game came when Dixon R.A.F. man playing the local net, took exception to too much whistle tooting and calmly stood by while Hall scored an easy goal to tie the game.

Following this the locals appeared to lose their aggressiveness and Davis shot two lovely goals past Dixon to give the R.A.F. a comfortable winning margin of 4-2.

There were many nice plays seen, the finest being the saving of a penalty shot by Dixon in the second half. Coleman had a number of stars of former years such as McCloy, Ford, Pryde and they acquitted themselves creditably. Referee Pete Smith remarked after the game that everybody on the field got a clap but the referee, Pete came in for a lot of good-natured kidding from fans and players alike but for all that; did a grand job of refereeing.

R.A.F.: Roberts, Chalmers, Bloor, Platt, Phillips, Corrigan, Brannon, Rose, Davis, Wick, Hall. Coleman: Dixon, Pryde, Ford, McDonald, McCloy, Jackson, Pecini, Radley, Knight, L. Moore, J. Moore.

Referee: P. Smith.

Australian Flag Presented To Legion

Donation Given by Local Citizen; Legion Members Show Visiting Airmen Real Coleman Hospitality.

It was a gay and enjoyable evening at the Canadian Legion club room on Monday night. Songs of Auld Scotland, mingled with some popular ditties, soon had the large crowd in happy mood.

Purpose of the social evening was to have an Australian flag presented to the Legion by a citizen who wished to remain anonymous and to show the visiting airmen from Medicine Hat some real old Coleman hospitality which is unsurpassed in the Crows Nest Pass.

Following a round of refreshments Chairman George Derbyshire called upon Flt. Lt. C. W. H. Billenger, of Medicine Hat R.A.F. school and who was in charge of the visitors to make the presentation. In a few words he handed the Royal Australian Ensign over to Alex. Easton, secretary of the club. In accepting the fine gift Mr. Easton stated that the flag was the prize offered the Legion by a local citizen. If they could succeed in having the Army Train, which came through the Pass in April, stop at Coleman. The train was then scheduled to make only one stop in the Pass towns and that at Blairmore. The Legion had accepted the challenge and had been successful in getting the train to stop at Coleman, hence the flag and the presentation that evening. He stated the Legion would keep and revere the flag. The airmen present he extended a hearty welcome on behalf of the club and bade them enjoy themselves.

A piano was brought into the room from the Grand Union hotel, generously loaned for the occasion. Soon the crowd, which appeared predominantly Scottish, were singing "Auld Glesca Toon," "Mary O' Argyll" and others. Chairman Derbyshire called upon everyone whom he thought possessed any musical talent and there was never a dull moment.

One of the highlights of the entertainment was the bagpipe selections by Piper Jimmy Moore and drum accompaniment by his son John. Several couldn't resist the temptation to get on their feet and have a dance. Following the dancing Piper Moore led in a number of popular songs. The merriment continued till 10 p.m., with the R.A.F. visitors well furnished to take back to the Hat, happy memories of Coleman hospitality.

The visitors arrived here on Sunday afternoon and a number of citizens were most willing to have them as guests over the holiday week-end.

To Plan Salvation Army Campaign On Friday

Will Endeavor to Get Energetic Committee Formed to Raise $500 Quota.

A meeting will be held in the council chamber to-morrow Friday evening at 7.30 for the purpose of forming a committee to supervise the Salvation Army's Red Shield Home Front Appeal which takes place this month.

A meeting was held on Wednesday evening but due to other attractions and bad weather only a few men attended.

Quota for the Pass has been set at $1500 with Coleman being given a $500 quota. It has been proposed to canvass the entire town to raise this amount, twenty or thirty teams being formed to do this work. At Friday night's meeting officers will be elected to supervise the campaign.

Vice-Pres. Jules Charbonnier Of West Canadian Collieries, Called By Death

FRENCH INDUSTRIAL MAGNATE BURIED WEDNESDAY AT BLAIRMORE

Jules Charbonnier, 65, vice-president of the West Canadian Collieries, Ltd., died in the Holy Cross hospital, Calgary, Sunday night. The French industrial magnate is survived by his wife living in France, and a son, Jules, was fatally injured a few years ago while training with the French army. A cavalry horse rolled on him and he died of the injuries received.

Empty Tubes Needed Now For New Toothpaste

From now on you'll have to turn in an empty metal tube before you can buy a tube of tooth paste or shaving cream.

The Wartime Prices and Trade Board announced the new regulation Monday night—a stop taken some time ago in the United States. The order now is in effect.

Retailers are prohibited from selling any tooth paste or shaving cream in a collapsible metal tube "except on surrender of a used tube at the time of sale or delivery," a board statement said.

re-added: "A used tube of any kind may be turned in, not necessarily one which has contained shaving cream or toothpaste."

Exceptions include sales by a retailer where tooth paste or shaving cream preparations in collapsible metal tubes form part but not more than 25 per cent of the value of a gift kit or combination of goods.

SAW FRIEND IN PRISONERS OF WAR PICTURE

Jim Park was given a real surprise this week while perusing the Red Cross Despatch magazine for July and August. In it are two German prisoners of war pictures, one of them showing a group of prisoners used to work a Nazi coal mine. In this picture Jim immediately recognized his friend A. G. Clarke, of Aberdeen. The picture is fairly clear and each prisoner's features are well defined so that Jim has no doubt but that it is his friend.

The two men worked in a co-operative store in Aberdeen and Mr. Clarke is thought to have been taken a prisoner of war prior to Dunkirk. Only last week Mr. Park sent him cigarettes in a parcel to Germany.

TESTING NEW TRANSMITTER

Radio listeners in Southern Alberta may expect to hear a new voice in the air within the next couple of weeks. CJOE, Lethbridge, is presently installing its new thousand watt equipment, and engineers are expected to be testing at an early date. Regular operation of the new station is expected by October 1st on its new frequency of 1060 kilocycles.

Over $400 In War Stamps Purchased Here

Merchants Purchase $300 in Stamps to Take Care of "Fifteen Minutes For Canada" Trade

Coleman appeared to hold its own with other towns in southern Alberta last week when over $400 in war savings stamps were sold by the local War Finance committee.

As reported in last week's issue $122 was sold by the Miss Canada's on Saturday and Monday. In preparing for the "Fifteen Minutes For Canada" last Thursday Mrs. H. Dafeo and her committee sold the merchants approximately $300 worth of stamps.

While no store reported exceptionally large sales, mostly all of them sold some stamps which when tallied together amounted to a fairly good amount. The stores will continue to sell stamps from now on and customers are urged to take the odd stamp in their change and in this manner keep increasing their war stamp savings.

Items of refugee clothing included: 4 infants' gowns, 2 infants' slips, 4 infants' bonnets, 1 infant's vest, 1 infant's band, 1 infant's jacket, 1 infant's blanket, 1 lady's night dress and 2 pairs hose.

Coleman branch of the Red Cross wish to thank Miss Margaret Dunlop's class in west Coleman for a donation of $2.80.

LEGION WILL PREPARE NEW LIST SOLDIERS' ADDRESSES

Many Local Men's Addresses Unknown; Prepare For Christmas Mail

The local branch of the Canadian Legion is going to prepare a complete new list of soldiers' addresses, both overseas and in the Dominion. This has been necessary due to so many men having enlisted in recent months and of whom no address has been received, and also to the free movement of men whose addresses on file are now of no further use.

It is only three months before Christmas parcels will be prepared by the Ladies Auxiliary of the B.E.S.L. and in order to facilitate mailing, parents and friends of men and women in the armed forces are asked to send the correct address of their son, husband, or daughter to Alex. Easton, secretary of the Legion.

Failure to do this may result in a soldier not getting his Christmas parcel and the Legion is particularly anxious that this does not happen.

John W. Makin Died Monday at Blairmore

Resided Here From 1913 to 1919; Had Resided at Hillcrest For Past 23 Years

The Pass lost one of its old-time residents at 3.30 Monday morning when John W. Makin, of Hillcrest, passed away in the Blairmore hospital following a lengthy illness.

He was born at Wigan, Lancashire, England, in 1877, coming to Canada in 1900 where he settled at Glace Bay, N.S. After a few years he came west residing at Michel for a year. In 1913 he came from Michel to Coleman where he worked for six years and in 1919 he moved with his family to Hillcrest where they have resided for the past 23 years.

Four years ago he suffered injury while working at Hillcrest Mines and had been unable to work steadily since that time. Following the closing down of the Hillcrest mine he gained employment at West Canadian Collieries, Blairmore.

Funeral was held at St. Luke's church, Blairmore, on Wednesday afternoon, Rev. J. R. Hague conducted. Besides relatives, a number of friends as well as Blairmore Elks were in attendance. Interment was in Hillcrest cemetery.

Surviving are the widow, two daughters, Mrs. David Lockhart of Fernie, and Mrs. Norman Miller of Hillcrest; three sons, William, Charles and John; one sister, Mrs. Dave Sudworth, of Coleman, and five brothers, Charles, of Coleman, George, of Boston, Tom, of Halifax, Dick, of Hillcrest, and James, of Corbin.

ALEX. EASTON REPLACES T. ROSE ON RECRUITING COMMITTEE

Due to the enlistment in the Home Guard of Messrs. Tommy Rose and William Marland it left only H. C. McBurney on the local recruiting committee with no Legion representative.

A letter from Captain C. G. Davidson, assistant district recruiting officer, M.D. 13, was received by the Legion last week appointing Alex. Easton in place of Mr. Rose.

Mr. Easton has received transportation warrants and other necessary forms and can now take care of the requirements of any prospective recruit.

A Permanent Peace

NO MATTER HOW LONG the present war continues, there can be only one outcome. The nations ranged on the side of the democracies have solemnly pledged to continue the struggle until final victory is attained. If the war should be prolonged, there will be no doubt further peace-offerings from the enemy nations, who may ask for an armistice, with a view to a patched-up peace. As the enemy has undertaken to wage a total war, so must the Allied Nations be just as determined to continue the struggle until the final peace is won. There can be no sentimentalism shown when the curtain is rung down on the final act.

Will Wars Continue?

There is a school of thought that enunciates the view, that inasmuch as from time immemorial there have always been wars, that this curse of humanity must inevitably continue. Within the lifetime of the present generation we have witnessed two world wars, and it is unreasonable to think that we are doomed, either ourselves or our children, to endure another world cataclysm. We are a peaceful people, and as such, any should we be called to defend ourselves from other war-like and predatory nations. We are, however, given to understand from views expressed by prominent statesmen and war leaders that we are now fighting for a permanent peace, and that steps will be taken to make sure that in future the peace will be maintained.

A Policy Needed

The only method by which this high purpose can be attained, would seem to be primarily by a unification of the English-speaking world, and with the aid of the other peace-loving peoples which comprise the United Nations. The man-power and resources of this continent, coupled with the might of the British Empire, should act as a strong deterrent to any act of aggression. It would require a permanent policy and a singleness of purpose to attain this much-desired end. One of the lessons we have learned from this war is that no country, no matter how distant from the seat of trouble, can escape from its terrors. The airplane has annihilated distances, and the world has become shrunken in this respect. Isolationism can be likened to the proverbial ostrich who hides his head in the sand to escape his enemies. Our only hope then is for a new and revised League of Nations that will stand the test of time.

Eggs—White Or Brown

THIS MORNING ON MILLIONS OF BREAKFAST TABLES—

Eggs helped to get the families off to a good start for the day, and in millions of other homes eggs will continue the good work at lunch and dinner. In varied dress—as golden scrambled, poached on toast, hard or soft in their shells, "sunside up" with ham, or hidden away in muffins or dessert—eggs are good for us at any meal.

A "MUST" FOOD—

Eggs are one of the "must" foods. Even when budgets are limited, at least three or four eggs a week are needed for each person. If possible, one egg a day for each child and each grown-up is recommended and sometimes two.

WHATS IN AN EGG?—

Eggs are rich in: Iron, one of the minerals our bodies need. Vitamins A and G. Good quality protein—important for children. They contain also some Vitamin D.

STYLES IN SHELLS—

Some people like white shelled eggs while others prefer them brown. The color of the shell is related only to the kind of hen. Leghorns lay white eggs; most other hens lay brown eggs. The color of shell has nothing to do with age, condition or flavor of eggs. Flavor depends mostly on what the hens eat. Grade for grade, white eggs and brown eggs are the same.

YOLKS—LIGHT OR DARK?—

Many people think the color of the yolk indicates its "freshness"—the orange ones being older. This is not true for color depends on the hen's food and may vary from light yellow to deep orange and the egg still be of excellent quality.

COOLNESS PREFERRED—

Once a good egg, not always a good egg—unless properly cared for. Eggs like milk, are perishable, and should be kept in a cool place—in your refrigerator, if possible.

THE ART OF COOKING EGGS—

High temperatures make egg white tough. Today, the best cook doesn't boil eggs. Instead she puts the egg in cold water, brings it to a boil, covers, and turns off the heat. The egg should stand in the water for three minutes (soft cooked) and 20-25 minutes (hard cooked).

Scrambled eggs are best cooked in a double boiler, instead of directly over the heat. A moderate oven should be used for such dishes as custards, souffles, and cakes.

On the vitamin chart, free on postal card request to the Western Division Health League of Canada, 111 Avenue Road, Toronto, you can further explore the importance of eggs in your diet.

CBC NATIONAL FARM RADIO FORUM

Although Municipal Health Services are doing a good job in Saskatchewan, a national plan is desirable in the opinion of speakers heard from Regina, in a recent broadcast of the CBC's National Farm Radio Forum. The speakers were: C. H. Chapin of Strasbourg, secretary-treasurer of the rural municipality of McKillop; Reeve M. S. Anderson of the same municipality; and Dr. E. Hittman, resident physician of the McKillop health unit. Mr. Anderson, a Norwegian by birth and conversant with the highly-developed public health services of Norway, was one of the prime movers in the framing and passage of Saskatchewan's Municipal Medical and Hospital Services Act.

The plan discussed by the speakers has been in operation in McKillop municipality since 1939. Provincial and municipal authorities co-operate in the work, and individual residents pay an annual contribution which has been set at $7.20. The doctor serves about 2100 persons in an area extending about 25 miles out from Strasbourg, and also serves as Municipal Health Officer of four municipalities co-operating in the plan. Strasbourg, Bulyea, Silton and McKillop. He is paid an annual salary of $14,000 and looks after all medical and surgical care outside of hospital and within the scope of local facilities. Hospital cases are sent to Regina, and the plan provides for a maximum of 21 days at public ward rates. It does not include dental treatment or eye examinations for glasses. Patients take care of their own transportation. X-rays and physiotherapy are included, when requested by the local doctor or by a specialist.

It was generally agreed that public health had improved under the plan. Patients felt much freer to consult their local doctor about odd symptoms and in many cases more serious ailments were prevented by prompt treatment. Stress was laid upon the work in the district schools. The schools, twenty in all, had been visited all children examined, and about 600 school and pre-school children inoculated for diphtheria and scarlet fever, and vaccinated for smallpox.

It was stated that there were seven of these health units operating in Saskatchewan, and that other municipalities had passed bylaws and were awaiting the completion of their organizations. The health units kept in touch with one another through an association known as the Health Services Union, of which Mr. Chapin was secretary-treasurer. The chairman of this Union was Reeve George Bryce of Earl Grey, and the vice-chairman, A. E. Jones of Lumsden. Mr. Anderson stressed the point that health should be a national problem, and hoped that some day municipal boundaries could be disregarded and centres set up for medical treatment of all Canadians, wherever they might be. Dr. Hittman said that from the doctor's point of view, perhaps the greatest benefit would be to national health as a result of early diagnosis and preventive treatment. The municipal plan, however, was working well, in Mr. Chapin's opinion, and had given a sense of security to the people of the community.

VERY WONDERFUL

Captain George Fried, of the Bureau of Navigation, was talking about, luxurious new liners. "A young man," he said, "crossed on the new set of these. His friends, when he disembarked, asked him how he had enjoyed the trip.

"It was wonderful," he said, "Why if I hadn't been seasick all the way I wouldn't have known I was on the ocean."

The Individual Citizen's Army

A Weekly Column About This And That In Our Canadian Army

By Alan Maurice Irwin

A suit of battle-dress, as the only uniform available to a soldier, can be expected to last six months. If it is eked out by the issue of a cotton drill uniform in the summer the length of time before replacement becomes necessary is lengthened by a few weeks. When, in addition, a soldier is issued with a "walking out" uniform to wear in the fall and winter months the battle-dress can be expected to last at least nine months.

What is all that about? You ask. Just that when you are clothing or equipping an army you think of durability, utility, and the public purse. The main idea is to give each soldier everything he needs—but nothing more than that.

Which is a good target for us soldiers in the Individual Citizen's Army to aim at. In other words, let's buy only what we need and preserve what we have.

There are many organizations in the Army charged with seeing that soldiers have everything they need, that they take care of what they have and that what is no longer usable for its primary purpose is salvaged for some other use.

We have dealt, from time to time with the Ordnance Corps, the "Q", or Quartermaster-General's branch and the Royal Canadian Army Service Corps but so far we haven't got down to the housekeepers of the different units yet.

These "housekeepers" are the Quartermaster sergeants. There are two varieties, Regimental Quartermaster Sergeants and Company Quartermaster Sergeants. I nearly forgot the top man, the Quartermaster who is the responsible commissioned officer in each unit.

The unit organization is: Quartermaster, a commissioned officer, who is usually a captain; R.Q.M.S., a warrant officer, second class and a Squadron Battery, or Company Quartermaster Sergeant who is the senior non-commissioned officer of the company ranking next below the Company Sergeant-Major.

These men function as a supply service for the unit and are responsible for obtaining all arms, clothing, equipment and rations for the men in their care. But, and this is a big "but", they are also responsible for the care, maintenance and return of those articles or for a satisfactory explanation of clearance of them.

Thus through this chain of responsibility, the people's purse is watched, care is taken of the people's property used or worn by the soldiers and provision is made through the chain of responsibility for the collection and return to the Salvage Branch, R.C.O.C., of used or worn articles that can be repaired or otherwise salvaged.

"If it's good enough for the Army, it's good enough for the taxpayer." That would be a good motto for us to adopt. Then, conversely, "if it's not good enough for the taxpayer, it's not good enough for the Army," must be true too.

That refers to material things. As regards the preservation and conservation of material things the Army can show the rest of us the way.

A full record of everything issued is kept in the Company and Regimental Quartermaster's store. That record shows just when Pte. John Canuck was issued with his coat or his battle-dress or his boots. It records the loss by Pte. Canuck of any of his equipment—and passed that information to the Paymaster so that deductions can be made.

Do we do that in our homes?

In other words are we taking enough care of what we have to enable us to play our part in blocking the infiltration of inflation forces? Or are we rushing off to the store to buy something we don't need because the style has changed—or because we just plain want it?

I heard an indignant citizen (feminine) say the other day that she saw dresses in a window that "certainly had not been simplified." Sure! Why not? There are still many retailers who have clothes in stock that were manufactured before the simplification orders were made. Are these to be wasted?

These are the things we must guard against. Turn that spare money for a new suit or coat into War savings, or save it for war taxes—in other words, do as the army does, make what you have last by taking care of it, by buying carefully in the first place.

The Wartime Prices and Trade Board has stated emphatically that the rationing of clothes is not imminent. But that does not mean we should go on buying aprees. 2480

HALF OF ITALY'S NAVAL SHIPS HAVE BEEN SUNK SINCE THAT COUNTRY ENTERED THE WAR

With the British Fleet in the Eastern Mediterranean. More than two-thirds of Italy's merchant fleet has been sunk or damaged and about 50 per cent. of Italy's naval striking power lies at the bottom of the Mediterranean after 26 months of war with Britain.

That claim is based on figures obtained after a check of confirmed sinkings and damage inflicted upon Axis supply ships and warcraft by British forces over on and under the sea.

Navy sources stress that it is doubtful whether Italy has been able to do much about replacing her losses because of a shortage of steel armor and other materials. It is known that Italy had to hold up work on two new battleships for some time because of a lack of armor plate.

The admiralty asserted that Italy definitely has lost 1,479,000 tons of merchant ships since her entry into the war in June, 1940. This figure includes 548,000 tons sunk since the first of this year. Total tonnage listed as sunk or damaged is given as 2,366,000 and Italy's merchant marine at the start of the war was a little more than 3,000,000 tons.

Of Italy's fighting ships, four 8-inch gun cruisers of an original seven, and five 6-inch gun cruisers of a possible dozen are listed as sunk by the British navy.

Italy was tagged for its heaviest losses in the destroyer category. Britain lists 50 ships definitely sunk, although this number includes some torpedo boats and other small warcraft. Italy had about 80 destroyers in 1940.

The number of Axis submarines destroyed cannot be disclosed but the admiralty has estimated that Italy now has in service little more than half the 104 submarines she boasted when she went to war.

One of Il Duce's original six battleships was destroyed in the Taranto attack in November, 1940, but two new vessels, the Roma and the Impero, gave Italy a possible seven. Several of these may be laid up for repairs, however, as a result of air attacks during the Malta convoy operations.

Expression Of Confidence In Fight For Victory

London.—Britain viewed with calm confidence the opening of the fourth year of war and looked optimistically to a new period of offensive after three years in which reverses outnumbered victories.

Dominion Secretary Atlee, in an anniversary statement, spoke for the nation when he said "we must expect further difficulties, but we can be certain that, however long the way, the issue is sure."

Confidence that, while the way still is difficult, this fourth year will see the beginning of a victory offensive was the keynote of many London and provincial newspaper editorials.

Prime Minister Churchill, Mrs. Churchill and all members of the cabinet attended services at Westminster Abbey.

Typical of the newspaper comment was that of The Times, which said: "Everywhere the forces in action are moving at last towards a balance. Of the forces in reserve, an overwhelming preponderance is with the United Nations. . . . The long fight for survival is ending. The fight for victory must soon begin."

Commented the Daily Telegraph: "Whatever the dangers of the time and what doubtful days lie ahead, the union (of United Nations) must be decisive in the end."

Said the Mirror: "We shall do well to look into the future with full confidence, backed by renewed determination. . . . We wish that the next phase of the war may mark the long-expected transition from defensive to offensive preparations."

The News Chronicle said: "Two years ago we were within an ace of disaster. Now we stand on the threshold of events which we hope and believe will bring final victory within our grasp."

The Herald's editorial reported: "The nation enters upon this fourth year not merely with spirit undiminished but keener and more adventurous than at the outset."

TEA PRICES

New Schedule Of Prices For Small Packages Of Tea

Ottawa.—Thomas K. Wade, tea administrator of the wartime prices and trade board, announced a schedule of "appropriate" prices for small packages of tea—now in demand under coupon rationing—based upon maximum retail prices established by the board last January.

Noting that the January schedule did not "anticipate" the small packages now brought into general use, the announcement set forth the following schedule:

For tea with a maximum retail price of 85 cents a pound, the retail price will be 23 cents for a four-ounce package and 12 cents for a two-ounce package.

For tea with a maximum of 90 cents a pound the four-ounce package will be 24 cents; the two-ounce 13 cents.

For tea with a maximum of $1 a pound the four-ounce package will be 25 cents and the two-ounce 14 cents.

The announcement said maximum prices for four and two-ounce packages of qualities not specified in the January schedule will be determined upon application to the administrator, who will also determine prices on tea bags for ultimate sale to consumers.

FLOUR IN RUSSIA

Shipments From Canada Sent In Considerable Amounts

Ottawa.—Canadian wheat has moved to Russia "in considerable amounts" in recent months in the form of flour, and negotiations for shipment of further supplies now are underway, Trade Minister MacKinnon revealed.

Last year shipments of Canadian wheat and flour went to northern Russian ports via the United Kingdom, and were welcomed as vital food supplies for Russian armies locked in combat with the Germans.

FOR MILITARY SERVICE

Between 20,000 and 25,000 To Receive Notices In September

Ottawa.—Between 20,000 and 25,000 Canadians will receive their call-up notices during September, officials of the national selective service and the department of national war services said.

Calls for compulsory military service in district "C", including Ottawa and Kingston, may be somewhat smaller this month because of serious depletion of manpower in the area, the officials said. However, many Ottawans between the ages of 20 and 40 have received notices to report for medical examination.

Requests for the October call-up are in the hands of officials but there is no indication of the number to be called during that month.

BLOOD DONATIONS

BRITISH ARMY TRAINING IS DIRECTED TO OPERATIONS ON CONTINENTAL SCALE IN WEST

London.—British army training and "other preparations" all are directed toward operations on a continental scale in the west, a review of the land forces' part in the third year of war said.

The assurance that the whole resources of U.S. in manpower and material will be thrown into the struggle against the Axis and the mobilization of equipment and training of American army formations enabled the Allies to concentrate a greater striking power in the United Kingdom than at any other period of the war, the review added.

The army did not use the phrase "second front" but said operations on a continental scale now had been brought within the range of practical possibilities.

The third year of war was marked by a "steady transition from defensive to offensive preparations" for the home forces, the review declared.

"The organization, equipment and training of Britain's land forces have been conditioned throughout by concentration on a new objective—the conversion of the British Isles into a base for joint Anglo-American operations against the Axis in the west," the statement said.

The field army which would bear the brunt of the invasion of the continent has increased its mobility and hitting power by the addition of "growing supplies of armored fighting vehicles, guns of all patterns and mechanical transport."

The organization trend has been to increase self-sufficiency of the brigade and divisional formations, the review said. Battle schools have prepared the army as a whole for "offensive action over sustained periods by providing vital atmosphere realism" in training.

"The successful large-scale raid on Dieppe" proved that normal infantry units have reached the level of training in shock tactics which previously was attained only by Commando units, the army said.

Special service troops—the regular army's term for the Commandos—and air-borne formations continued to "grow in strength" and demonstrated in combined operations the practical results of their training.

The review noted that the entry of Japan into the war was followed by the loss of Hong Kong, Malaya and Burma, but said "fighting withdrawals" inflicted heavy losses on the enemy and gained time for strengthening of defenses of India and Ceylon and the occupation of Northern Madagascar. As a result, the army said.

"Command of the waters of the Indian ocean still reposes in Allied hands while maintenance of sea communications between Australia and both the Middle East and U.S. is enabling the Allied command to build up a commonwealth force adequate not merely for its own defence but for eventual offensive operations against the enemy."

MANPOWER RULES

Penalty Is Provided For Breach Of Regulations

Ottawa.—Heavy penalties are provided for violation of new manpower regulations, selective service officials said.

Persons committing a breach of the regulations are liable to a fine of $500 or 12 months' imprisonment or both.

This penalty clause applies to all the regulations, including the requirement for seven days' notice in writing before a worker leaves a job or before an employer lays off a worker, the compulsory employment of persons now unemployed who must remain on their new jobs unless they have the permission of a selective service officer to leave and the employment of all new help through an employment office.

GOVERNMENT HAS ASSUMED RIGID CONTROL OF THE BEEF CATTLE TRADE IN CANADA

Ottawa.—The wartime prices and trade board assumed rigid control of the beef cattle trade in Canada, naming the government-owned War-time Food Corporation as sole exporter of beef cattle in a new policy aimed at meeting the "acute" shortage which the board said now exists "across the whole country."

The food corporation "will when necessary, buy cattle in the domestic market to support cattle prices in Canada."

The board disclosed in its announcement that Canadian packers have been required to give priority to military requirements for some time.

"Yet notwithstanding this action military requirements have not been met."

"Accordingly," said the statement, "the board has carefully reviewed the whole situation and made recommendations to the government, which decided upon a complete change of policy, making War-time Food Corporation the sole exporter and at the same time assuring not less than ceiling prices to producers."

"This should remove any incentive to hold back cattle at one period and press sales at another."

"Thus, while the new policy may not restore beef supplies immediately, the removal of any abnormal incentive to hold cattle should result in resumption of the customary flow of marketings."

The board's sweeping action represents a definite change in policy followed since last June whereby the corporation paid the equivalent of export prices to divert cattle from the export to the domestic market up to the number which otherwise would be eligible for export under the United States quota.

The old policy, the board said, had resulted in "very uneven" marketings of cattle—abundant supplies in the early part of each quarter and acute shortages toward the end of the quarter.

"This neither stabilized prices to the producer nor provided adequate beef supplies for civilian and military requirements in Canada," the announcement said.

INVASION TALK

Premier Of Poland Says Venture Is Absolutely Feasible

London.—The Canadian-led raid on Dieppe "proved that an invasion of the continent is absolutely feasible," Gen. Sikorski, premier of Poland, said in a statement marking the third anniversary of the Nazi invasion of Poland.

"The American army, gathering in Britain and the Allies' shattering superiority in the air show what the Germans have to expect in the future," Gen. Sikorski said. The entry of the United States into the war "automatically decided the final result," he added.

THE COLEMAN JOURNAL NOTES AND COMMENTS

Must Keep Right on to The End

The addresses of Prime Minister Churchill and President Roosevelt leave no doubt of their intentions to carry on the war to a conclusive finish. Mr. Churchill's address to Parliament contained some unpleasant truths which show the difficulties experienced in the desert warfare. He revealed that 80,000 men were lost either killed, missing or captured, and that Rommel was enabled to make his rapid dash towards the Nile because he had the use of a large quantity of mechanized equipment captured from the British. It is not pleasant to know this, yet far better that the truth should be told than that rumors should get around which would undermine public confidence.

On the credit side of this intensive desert campaign is the knowledge that the Germans and Italians also suffered severe losses, and that several thousands of their soldiers are prisoners of war, some of them having been brought to Canada from North Africa several months ago. But there is no indication of an early end to the war. No prophecy can be made as to when it will end, and it appears that the nations with the most resources and courage and determination to win will prove victors.

The United Nations are gaining the ascendancy in the air, in munitions and man power. The submarine campaign as pointed out by Mr. Churchill is still a very serious menace, and if the Allied Nations were to lose supremacy of the sea lanes, Britain's and her Allies' position would be most critical. Yet shipbuilding is going on to make up the losses, while Germany is building more submarines to make good the losses of the undersea craft. A pleasing note in the news is that Britain is now growing more foodstuffs than ever before in order to not only make the country more self sustaining but to save shipping space for the carrying of war munitions and troops.

As Britain enters on the fourth year of war, despite the setbacks experienced, there is much to feel thankful for. In the first two years, the outlook was dark indeed. An inadequate air force, the surprise of submarine warfare, treachery in European countries and the collapse of the country that had been looked on as a powerful ally, France, were staggering blows. But Britain under the leadership of Prime Minister Churchill whose magnetism, enthusiasm and dynamic appeal to all peoples to stand united in the struggle against the "bestiality of our enemies," has dispelled Hitler's dream of world leadership. Allies have since come to Britain's aid, realizing that if that small but powerful nation went under, their turn would also come, for there is no doubt that the armed might of Germany, Italy and Japan would have terrorized the entire world.

The deliverance from this danger should make people of all Democratic countries thankful that Britain stood alone for a long time, with her liberty in greater danger than ever before experienced.

Soviet Sailors on a Minesweeper of Russia's Baltic Fleet

While destroyers, submarines and mosquito-craft of the Russian Baltic Fleet have taken a heavy toll of German transports and supply ships, attempting to reinforce the Fascist armies, Russian minesweepers are constantly on the job keeping the sea lanes free of enemy mines for Allied craft. This picture shows preparation aboard a Soviet minesweeper which has destroyed twenty antennae mines in a single sweep.

Paddy Finucane's Own Last Letter A Fighting Epic

Gallant British Air Ace Had
Visions of Quiet Business Career
Some Day But Now—

(Flt. Lt. Brendan "Paddy" Finucane of the Royal Air Force, gay and dauntless victor over 33 of Hitler's Luftwaffe, flew across the English Channel July 14. A "million-to-one chance" bullet from a German machine-gun post struck his radiator, and he never got home. This story, condensed by The Associated Press is believed to be the last bit of writing he did before his death.)

By P. L. Brendan Finucane

Royal Air Force

I have been on about 50 sweeps and most of my victories have been over France. I've got my bag because I've been blessed with a pair of good eyes and have learned to shoot straight.

I've not been shot down—knock on wood—and I've only once been badly shot up. (I hope that doesn't sound too Irish.) And for all that I've got a lot to thank the pilots in my section. They are Australians and I've never met a more loyal or gamier crowd of chaps.

I'm sure that Australia must be a grand country if it's anything like its pilots, and after the war I'm going to see it. No, not flying or farming. I like a job with figures—accounting or auditing.

Pilots Are Normal
Perhaps that doesn't sound much like a fighter pilot, but pilots are perfectly normal people.

Our chaps sometimes find they can't sleep. What happens is this. You come back from a show and find it very hard to remember what happened. Later, when sleep is stealing over you, some tiny link in the forgotten chain of events comes back. Instantly you are fully awake and then the whole story pieces itself together and you lie there, sleep driven away, re-living the combat. You suffer from mental indigestion.

The first necessity in combat is to see the other fellow before he sees you, or at least before he gets the tactical advantage of you. The second is to hit him when you fire. You mightn't have a second chance.

Story of a Fight

After a dog-fight my section gets split, and you must get together again, or tack on to others. The straggler is easy meat for a bunch of Jerries. Luckily, the chaps in my flight kept with me very well, and we owe a lot to it. On one occasion recently I saw an Me. dive on to one of my flight. As I went in after him, another Me. tailed in behind to attack me, but one of my flight went in after him. Soon half a dozen of us were flying at 400 m.p.h. in line astern everybody except the leader firing at the chap in front of him.

I got my Hun just as my nearest pal got the Hun on my tail, and we were then three Spitfires in the lead. When we turned to face the other Me. we found that several others had joined in, but as we faced them they turned and fled.

Previous Escape

The nearest I've been to being shot down was when another pilot and I attacked a Ju. 88. The bomber went down to sea level so that we could only attack from above in face of the fire of the Ju's rear guns. We put that Ju. into the sea alright, but I had to struggle home with my aircraft riddled with bullets and the under-carriage shot away.

I force-landed without the under-carriage, and was none the worse for it. But it wasn't very nice at the time.

Well, as I said just now, one day I'm planning to go to Australia—and audit books.

(But he'll never see Australia. That bullet in his radiator dropped his Spitfire into the Channel. "This is it, chaps," he said. Then his radio was silent.)

DRUMHELLER MINES
BATTLE ABSENTEEISM

Drumheller coal operators, with the co-operation of J. M. Stewart, federal coal administrator, are appealing to miners not to miss any days from work if possible.

A number of mines are reporting loss of output due to absenteeism of miners. One mine reported a loss of output of 1,200 tons last month, due to men not turning out regularly for work. Other mines also reported shortage of output for the same reason. Letters appealing to the men to turn out to work daily are being sent out.

Refused to Take Medical, Given 12 Months

Cowley Dukhobor Given Tongue Lashing and Stiff Jail Sentence

Members of religious sects, who have shown only scorn of Canadian laws and who have been a thorn in the side of the government and patriotic citizens for many years and particularly since war broke out, received a stiff jolt at the week-end when one of their members, a Dukhobor from Cowley, was given a tongue lashing and a stiff jail sentence at a Pincher Creek court.

Fred Kazakoff, of Cowley, received his medical-notice call from the National War Selective Service registrar. He failed to heed the notice although it is well known that men of his sect are not compelled to take up arms but a medical examination is necessary to place him in other lines of work in the country's war effort.

An R.C.M.P. officer was sent to see Kazakoff. The latter allegedly made certain statements to the officer regarding his unwillingness to take a medical. He was later arrested and brought to a Pincher Creek court where he pleaded not guilty. Following the evidence the magistrate found him guilty and in sentencing him stated: "You deliberately defied the law. You are a citizen of the whitest empire that ever was. Under a cloak of religion, you want to stay at home, to make money, while good citizens shed their blood. I have not a particle of sympathy for you. You are going to Lethbridge goal to do hard labor for twelve months."

St. Louis Star-Times: "It is only militarily that we are losing the war," declares an optimistic editor, Still, that's one of the worst ways to lose a war.

Miss Olwen Brown Is Married At Edmonton

At 4.30 Saturday afternoon, August 29, St. Stephen's College chapel was the scene of a pretty wedding when Miss Olwen Brown, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Brown, became the bride of Sgt. James Bell, R.C.A.F., son of Mr. and Mrs. David Bell of Drew, Ont. The Rev. Dr. E. T. Schrag joined the two in marriage.

Entering the church upon the arm of her father, the bride was pretty in her gown of floor length white satin fitted at the waist, with semi-full skirt and short sleeves. Her veil of net fell to the hem of her dress and was held in place by a tiara of orange blossoms. She carried an arm bouquet of gladioli.

Miss Dilya Brown attended her sister, and wore a blue satin toe-length frock with bolero jacket to match. A small straw hat of the same color, trimmed with veiling, and an arm bouquet of gladioli put the finishing touches to her ensemble.

Cpl. Grant Turner, R.C.A.F., Sarnia, Ont., was best man. During the signing of the register, Mrs. J. R. Cousins sang "Because". Miss Hron Harrison played the organ.

Thirty guests gathered at the Corona Hotel immediately following the ceremony to extend good wishes to the couple. Mrs. Brown, to receive, was smart in a dusty rose afternoon dress, with chocolate brown accessories and a corsage of sweet peas.

The young couple left Saturday night for Drew. To travel the bride wore a wool frock of red, blue and grey design and an overcoat of blue herringbone tweed. Gray hat, black and white shoes and gloves and purse, made up her accessories.

Out-of-town guests included A.C.I. and Mrs. Vernon Brown of Lethbridge, brother and sister-in-law of the bride.

WEDDINGS

JONES — WAGNER

A pretty wedding was solemnized at St. Mary's Rectory, Calgary, on Thursday, August 27 at 11 a.m., when Mary Augustine Wagner and William Jones were united in marriage by Rev. Father O'Byrne.

The bride was charming in a queen's blue redingote with navy blue accessories and a corsage of American beauty roses and gladioli.

Mrs. S. B. Ryan, sister of the bride, was matron of honor and wore a powder blue dress with white accessories and a corsage of carnations and sweet peas.

The groom was attended by Mr. Andrew Park.

A wedding dinner was served at the York hotel where immediate relatives and friends were in attendance.

Father O'Byrne proposed the toast "To the Bride" to which the groom responded. The happy couple left on a trip to Banff and on their return will reside at Calgary.

Attending the wedding were Miss K. Kilgannon, of Edmonton, and Mr. James Kilgannon, of Coleman.

TOSH — SANDULAK

The official witnesses were James Byrne, also of No. 37 S.F.T.S., and the sister of the bride, Mrs. L. Javorsky of Coleman.

The happy young couple will reside for the present in Calgary where the groom is an aircraft instrument repairer in the R.A.F. and the bride is engaged in office work of the R.C.A.F.

PRICE OF BEEF IS

DOWN AGAIN

Effective on Monday, August 24, 1942 is the third reduction of one cent a pound for carcasses, sides and quarters of beef sold by wholesalers to retailers. Retail butchers are expected to pass the reduction on to the consumer.

The plan of reducing the price of beef first applied on July 13, when the first reduction of one cent a pound took place. Subsequent reductions have been worked out in a sliding scale, for the benefit of the consumer.

Retailers, prohibited from paying more than the maximum wholesale price, likewise make their selling price to the consumer, as the average delivered cost of carcasses, side quarters or cuts, plus their marginal mark up in the basic period, September 15, to October 11. This applies to sales of beef of the same or similar kind and quality.

GOVERNMENT INSURANCE IN CASE OF WAR DAMAGE TO PROPERTY OWNERS OF PROPERTY ARE URGED TO INSURE AGAINST LOSS BY ENEMY ACTION

The Government of Canada, by Act of Parliament, has set up a Plan of War Risk Insurance against damage to property caused by enemy action—by countermeasures taken against the enemy—by explosions of war munitions handled by third parties.

In terms of general information, it may be stated that the Plan provides a certain limited FREE COMPENSATION for damage to owner-occupied homes and to chattels, but the main feature of the Plan is that owners of most types of property can protect their property by PURCHASE of GOVERNMENT WAR RISK INSURANCE at very moderate rates.

This type of War Risk Insurance is not being sold today by private insurance companies, because of the risk involved. Consequently, the Government has established a national scheme to make it possible for each citizen in Canada to purchase the sense of security that comes from knowing that if his property does suffer war damage (and the war has come much closer to Canada in the last twelve months) he can call on the resources of Canada to help him make good his property loss.

HOW TO OBTAIN GOVERNMENT WAR RISK INSURANCE

The Fire Insurance Agents and Companies of Canada have volunteered to the Government the services of their extensive facilities and personnel, on a non-profit basis, thus avoiding the setting up of the large organization that otherwise would be needed to handle details of this nation-wide Government War Risk Insurance scheme.

YOUR FIRE INSURANCE AGENT OR COMPANY WILL GLADLY SUPPLY COMPLETE DETAILS OF THIS GOVERNMENT INSURANCE PLAN.

THIS ANNOUNCEMENT IS PUBLISHED so that the public may have notice of the Government War Risk Insurance Scheme. The information given above is not intended to be a complete resumé of the Scheme. Full information regarding conditions, exclusions, etc., is available elsewhere.

ONE POUND SUGAR FOR EIGHT POUNDS OF APPLES

OTTAWA—In order to encourage greater consumption of the earlier varieties of apples, which because of the loss of export markets are in surplus this year, S. R. Noble, sugar administrator of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board, announced today that "until further notice" domestic consumers may purchase by voucher extra sugar at the rate of one pound per eight pounds of such apples consumed in the household. This is equivalent to one pound of sugar for six-quart basket of apples, or five pounds per bushel box, crate or hamper.

As apples are not preserved to any great extent, this fruit has not hitherto qualified for the issue of sugar on purchase vouchers, but it is recognized that it is desirable to stimulate the use of early varieties which are not keepers and are mainly used for cooking purposes. To the extent that they can be brought into additional consumption by an allowance of sugar this will tend to reduce the demand for imported dried fruits. The extra allowance of sugar now authorized may be regarded as inadequate to take care of full requirements for cooking apples, but the prevailing coupon ration of sugar, one-half pound per person per week, is intended to cover ordinary cooking needs. The extra allowance is therefore an encouragement to housewives to do more cooking of these early varieties than otherwise would be the case, and an additional incentive to make best possible use of the large supply.

More Scrap Urgently Needed

Half a million tons of scrap iron and steel must be added to the stock piles throughout Canada before the winter freeze-up, the Department of Munitions and Supply has announced.

The Controller added that the successful outcome of the war hinges on the ability of the United Nations to gather sufficient scrap iron and steel to keep the mills in full operation. "We need the scrap today," he said. "Tomorrow might be too late."

Around The Town

An ample coat of paint last week has more clearly defined the parking spaces on main street. All water hydrants have also received a new coat of yellow paint.

There is something in town which goes on almost daily and which we desire to draw to the attention of the Lions club and the Elks. Each afternoon, and sometimes in the evening, local young men are to be seen in uniform leaving for their bases after spending a furlough with their families here. Many the time these boys are paying their last visit here before going overseas. On some occasions we have the hand and a host of friends to bid them farewell at the station and friends to give them gifts of cigarettes, confectionery and even the odd bottle of Johnnie Walker. On other occasions however we have some boys leave town with no one at the station but a parent, sister, brother, or wife. Isn't it possible that the Lions or the Elks could not have a couple of members at the station to bid these men good-bye and make them realize that Coleman is not forgetful of them. Wish them the best of luck and safe return and give them a parting gift of a packet of cigarettes or if they do not smoke some chocolates. Either of these organizations are capable of setting up a fund for such a purpose and it would make the soldier happy in the thought that someone outside the family circle knew he was in town and that they appreciated his service to his country.

The approach to the Union cemetery has been greatly improved and the thanks of many citizens visiting the cemetery are extended to the council for their good work.

The business section of main street has received much attention during the past few weeks. Businessmen of many years are closing out while some are moving to new pastures. Mayor Fred Antrobus has decided to devote all his time to provincial business and as a result has sold the major portion of stock in his shoe store. Mr. and Mrs. Webster are busy selling their stock in order to move to Pentticon where they have purchased a Ladies Ready-to-Wear business. Barber Harry Hughes has closed his premises and moved to Edmonton. Bill Perby has sold his business and is preparing himself to go into the army.

Taxman Oliver Barringham has gone into the army resulting in the town being without a taxi. It is reliably reported that Lou Clary will take over this business. He has been awarded the school contract to transport children to and from Sentinel provided he gets the necessary license from Edmonton. Steve Bencko, proprietor of the Dry Goods store on the corner, received his medical notice call this week and will ask for time in which to dispose of his business.

Publicity Has a Value

(High River Times)

It is pointed out that many concerns which have no goods to offer to the public continue to take advertising space with business prudence. All wide awake firms know that it would be fatal for them to let their names pass from the public mind for any length of time even if they have nothing to sell. If they were to drop their advertising at the time they would soon be in the ranks of forgotten men. Some years ago, remarks the Renfrew Mercury, there was a proprietary medicine that was known from one end of America to another and which branched out into other lands. In large advertising space in the newspapers its merits were set forth in well chosen terms and on the roofs of barns and other similar places and on boardings the virtue of the medicine was loudly proclaimed. The owner of the remedy had a million dollar castle on the Thousand Islands and the Adirondacks. He spent money freely because there was no end to the flow that rolled into his coffers from practically every drug store in the land. There came a time when he tired of business and sold out his interests to a corporation. The manager of this corporation conceived the idea that he could profit by the advertising which had brought wealth to his predecessor. It was decided to drop all advertising and to add the vast sums expended in publicity to the general receipts of the company. This policy was adhered to for three years and at the end of that period the business of the corporation had shrunk to such proportions that bankruptcy was in sight. The corporation made a futile effort to regain its former prestige by again entering the advertising field only to find that it had been supplanted in this direction by wiser companies. With sales at a minimum this once formidable corporation found itself in bankruptcy and whatever merit the remedy had it was lost to the withdrawn from sale.

Every Pound of Scrap Metal Must Be Salvaged

Scrap metal is now needed by our war industries in unprecedented quantities. There are tons and tons of it rusting on our farms, in stores, around dwellings, in shops, and factories. This scrap must be quickly turned in or we shall endanger the flow of weapons and supplies to our armed forces. The movement of scrap to central collection points must be accelerated during the relatively short time we still have before winter sets in.

The Canadian farmer will have two crops of harvest this year. The first of these is the regular one, while the other is for agriculturalists an unusual one, scrap metal—old bits of iron and steel, broken tools and obsolete machinery.

The best of steel is made from a mixture of pig iron mixed with raw ore and scrap metal. We have adequate supplies of ore but there is a potential shortage of scrap. Unless half a million tons of this scrap is added to Canada's stock piles before winter sets in, some units of Canada's steel mills may have to be closed.

Everyone must contribute his share, farmer, industrialist, and householder, else the harvest we shall reap may not be to our liking. The time of the first harvest on our farms will soon be over; farmers will then have more time for this second harvest.

The tremendous tonnage of scrap materials, which has accumulated through the years, discarded and unwanted, is now a precious store which must be made available for our war industries. Don't depend on the other fellow to get it in. You know where some of it lies dormant right now. He does not. It is up to you, and don't wait until it is too late.

FLIES ARE SERIOUS MENACE TO HEALTH

Flies, especially the common house fly, are a menace to health, particularly during the summer and autumn. The part the house fly plays in spreading dangerous diseases such as infantile diarrhea, typhoid, and tuberculosis is fairly well known. Flies have long been suspected as possible carriers of infantile paralysis (poliomyelitis), say officials of the Division of Entomology, Dominion Department of Agriculture.

In the summer of 1941, scientists working in Connecticut and Alabama demonstrated the presence of the virus of poliomyelitis in mixed collections of blow flies, house flies, and certain other species of flies, taken in two localities where cases of infantile paralysis had occurred. This fact adds emphasis to the importance of fly control. Flies breed in garbage, manure, and other animal matter, and thus can be most effectively controlled by properly treating and disposing of such materials.

Measures should be taken to exclude flies from dwellings, and to protect foodstuffs from those that may gain entrance. The flies should be destroyed promptly. Leaflets containing further details on fly control may be obtained by writing to Publicity and Extension Division, Dominion Department of Agriculture, Ottawa.

THE NEW INCOME TAX

PART I - As it Affects

SALARY AND WAGE EARNERS

1. Question: WHO MUST PAY?

Answer: All persons in receipt of incomes over $400 single or $700 married.

2. Question: WHAT FORMS DO YOU HAVE TO FILL OUT?

Answer: Unless you are single, without dependents, and not making payments for allowable personal savings (Item 1D), you should file Form TD-1 with your employer. Otherwise he must deduct the amounts provided by the Table of Tax Deductions for a single person without dependents or personal savings.

If ½ or more of your income comes from salary or wages, you must file your 1942 Income Return by 30th September 1943. If your income is not over $5,000, including not over $100 from investments, you will use Form T1-Special; otherwise you will use Form T1.

3. Question: WHEN AND HOW IS YOUR TAX COLLECTED?

Answer: Your employer is required by law to make deductions from your salary or wages on account of your 1942 tax during the period September 1942 to August 1943. Each deduction must be the amount provided by the official Table of Tax Deductions for your current rate of pay, and family status and personal savings as declared on Form TD-1 (Item 2 above).

The Table is designed to collect about 90% of the tax on your salary or wages, leaving a balance of not more than 10% in most cases, (plus tax on your other income, if any) to be paid with your Income Return to be filed in September 1943.

If your salary or wages are less than ½ of your income, you must pay tax on your other income by compulsory instalments. (See Part II below).

4. Question: WHAT CONSTITUTES TAXABLE INCOME?

Answer: Your income is made up of your full salary or wages before any deduction whatsoever, plus living allowances, gratuities or bonuses (including cost of living bonus) and the value of any board, living quarters or supplies, etc., given by your employer. It also includes such receipts as interest and dividends, rents (after taxes, repairs, etc.), royalties and annuities. From your total income you deduct payments (up to $100) into certain types of employees' superannuation or pension funds, charitable donations up to 10% of your income, and medical expenses over 5% of your income (maximum—$400 single, $600 married, plus $100 for each dependent up to four), to find the amount of your taxable income.

5. Question: HOW MUCH DO YOU PAY?

(3) Dependents—tax credit for each—up to $10

(C) Surtax—4% on investment income over $1100 without exemptions.

NOTES

- (1) In no case are you required to pay a net tax (i.e., after credit for dependents) which would reduce your taxable income below $400 single or $1200 married.
(2) If a wife has earned income over $400, then both she and her husband are taxable as single persons, but any amount a wife earns does not affect her husband's rights to be taxed as a married person. A married woman is taxed as a single person under all circumstances except only when her husband's income is less than $400.

IF IT MEANS ANYTHING

If four-leaf clovers mean anything, Jeanne Anderson of London, Ont., should have lots of luck. She recently found 51 four-leaf clovers and topped the back-yard search by picking up three five-leaf and two six-leaf clovers.

One Big Problem

Is How To Make Good Apple Sauce Without Sugar

Apple sauce, Canada's national dish, is in peril. Nature intended that stewed apples should be sweetened with sugar, it seems, for no other combination is quite as good. Apple sauce can be sweetened with honey, maple syrup, corn syrup or saccharine; but then it isn't apple sauce.

This difficulty has created an economic and marketing problem of first rate importance. Duchess apples have not been selling because apple sauce and apple pies are more or less out. The Duchess is an apple sauce variety, par excellence, and sugar rationing has made the sale and distribution of this apple extremely sticky.

Moreover, the present situation has created a fear that consumption of all varieties of apples may be at low ebb this season. A percentage of the crop is consumed in the raw state, but by far the largest proportion goes into consumption via the many ways in which apples may be cooked and served.—Farmers Advocate.

JOSEPH SOLD INTO SLAVERY

Golden text: Love envious not. I Corinthians 13:4.
Lesson: Genesis 37, 38-41.
Devotional reading: Psalm 130.

Explanations and Comments

Joseph's Favoritism, Genesis 37:1-4.
Joseph's Dreams, Genesis 37:5-11.
Joseph's Journey in Search of his Brothers, Genesis 37:12-17.

Joseph's Brothers Plot to Kill him, Genesis 37:18-24. Joseph's brothers saw this dreamer, as they called him, coming, and conspired to kill him. His dreams of his sheaf as the one to which all the sheaves of his brothers bowed down, and of himself as the one to whom the sun, moon and stars made obeisance, had given him this nickname of "The Dreamer." Their plan was to slay him and cast his body into a pit, and then report to Jacob that he had been slain by a wild beast. Then "We shall see what will become of his dreams," they cried. How Joseph's claims to superiority rankled in their hearts this remark shows. Where jealousy and faction are, there is confusion and every vile deed, writes James Jas. 3:16.

When Reuben, the oldest of the brothers, heard their plan he counselled them not to take the life of his brother, but to cast him into a pit, whence he hoped to free him and deliver him to his father. His plea prevailed, and on Joseph's arrival they stripped him of his coat that showed his father's favoritism, and cast him into a dry pit.

Joseph Sold to Merchantsmen and Carried to Egypt, Genesis 37:25-30. "The heartless barbarity with which Joseph's brethren set down to eat and drink the very dainties he had brought them from his father, while they left him, as they thought, to starve, has been regarded by all later generations as the height of hard-hearted indifference.

The plain near Dothan was, and still is, part of a regular trade route from Gilead through the Plain of Sharon to Egypt. When the brothers saw a caravan of Ishmaelites coming from Gilead with their camels bearing spice and balm and myrrh (gums that were used in Egypt for embalming and also for incense and medicine) Judah cried, How shall we benefit from killing our brother and concealing his blood? According to the ancient idea blood would cry to God from the ground, Gen. 4:11. Then Judah counselled his brothers to sell Joseph to the Ishmaelites and he not be guilty of taking a brother's life. His counsel prevailed.

Joseph Sold to Potiphar, Genesis 37:36. In Egypt Joseph was sold to Potiphar, one of Pharaoh's officers, the captain of the guard, "Head of the Police," we might call him; his position was one of power and dignity. Pharaoh was the royal title of all the rulers of Egypt. The ruler at this time was probably one of the Hyksos kings. Potiphar's residence was probably at Memphis, the most magnificent city in Egypt.

DYNAMIC LANGUAGE

American English, says the New York Times, is dynamic, and in particular newspaper English. The story of an air raid by our own people or the R.A.F.—not one of the gigantic 1,000-plane attacks, but a routine performance—is likely to begin thus: "Roaring out in massed formation over Western France yesterday Allied planes blasted Nazi factories and airdromes."

"TAKE CARE OF YOURSELF"

An industrial health sound slide film, "Take Care Of Yourself," is reviewed in the current issue of Health Magazine published by the Health League of Canada.

Unlike slide films of the strawberry-festival-magic-lantern era—which consisted for most part of post cards showing scenes of Grant's Tomb or the Great Wall of China—this film has definite human interest. It contains sound advice on health given by a general doctor and a pleasant nurse in conversation with Jim, hero of the play, who punches in for work one morning after a night of over-indulgence in food, drink, cigarettes—and lack of sleep.

Jim protests that a fellow has to get some fun out of life. "Right," answers the doctor, who proceeds to explain that good health enables a fellow to work better, play better—and get more fun out of life.

"Take Care Of Yourself," one of a series of slide films dealing with industrial health education, will be shown in Canada under the auspices of the Industrial Division of the Health League of Canada.

Jim is a typical factory worker around whom the story of "Take Care Of Yourself" has been sketched. He is a very woody one morning. Goes to the doctor's and asks for something "to keep me on the job." He gets a tablet from the nurse—and some incidental advice from the doctor. Jim becomes interested, asks questions and the doctor answers them under the headings of:

Rest; Food; Recreation and Exercise; Cleanliness; Mental Attitude.

The give and take of dialogue between Jim, the nurse and the doctor holds interest from the beginning and neatly gets a lot of information across without resorting to a lengthy dissertation on health. Plant and personnel officials may secure further details from the Secretary Industrial Division, Health League of Canada, 111 Avenue Road, Toronto, Ontario.

LESSON BEING TAUGHT

It is the first time for over a century that the Germans have been made to learn in their own land what war means; and the taste and memory of that very bitter medicine is an indispensable condition of a really permanent peace. There can be no permanent peace until all nations—and the Germans most of all—realize that those who take the sword shall perish by the sword.

The Chinese invented or discovered silk, porcelain, tea, printing and gunpowder.

HARVESTERS MAY ENTER CANADA FROM U. S. A.

Agricultural workers may come to Canada from the United States providing they have sufficient money to enable them to enable them to reach their destination in Canada. This announcement has been made to clarify a previous impression that harvesters from the United States could not enter Canada unless they belong to a harvesting unit. The regulations as they now stand allow seasonal farm labor to enter this country from the United States.
